

British Society for Eighteenth-Century Studies (BSECS)

Publications :

The Society's official journal, the Journal for Eighteenth-Century Studies (JECS), was founded in 1972. It is published quarterly in print and online in partnership with Wiley. See

<https://www.bsecs.org.uk/journal/>

Other publications include Criticks, which provides entertaining, informative and provocative reviews of events and media that are of interest to scholars of the eighteenth century:

see <https://www.bsecs.org.uk/criticks-reviews/>

BSECS publishes a monograph series in association with Boydell and Brewer. The series, called Studies in the Eighteenth Century, publishes outstanding multidisciplinary research on the global eighteenth century, with a particular focus on Britain, Europe and their empires. See

Congrès/Congresses :

The BSECS Annual Conference takes place in early January each year, usually at St Hugh's College, Oxford. The 53rd Annual Conference will take place in January 2024 with the theme: 'Work and Play'. See <https://www.bsecs.org.uk/conferences/annual-conference/>

Following the Covid-19 pandemic, BSECS has committed to organising additional online conferences.

The first Annual Online Conference will take place on 12-13 September 2023. See

<https://www.bsecs.org.uk/conferences/annual-online-conference/>

The Annual BSECS Postgraduate and Early Career Conference is hosted by a different institution each year. The next event will take place on 13-14th July 2023 at the University of Edinburgh. It has the theme 'Errantry, Exile and Elsewhere'.

Prix/Awards :

BSECS awards a range of prizes and fellowship each year. These include Career Development Awards, short and long-term fellowships, and prizes for outstanding teaching innovations and digital resources. The Society also offers some support for scholars' attendance at events, including the Society's own conferences and the ICE Congress in Rome 2023. For details see
